STATE SQUAD NAMED TO TAKE ON GLORY IN CARNARVON

Western Australia coach Robbie Dunn has selected his 14-man squad that will travel to Carnarvon for the Flood Appeal Charity Match against Perth Glory on Saturday night.

The match will be held at Festival Grounds, with all profits going directly to the Flood Appeal.

Further to the match itself, the WA team will be helping out in the community with coaching clinics and promotional visits to four local schools.

Both Perth Glory men and women players will also be involved, with Elisa D'Ovidio, Shannon May, Marianna Tabain and captain Tanya Oxtoby representing the Westfield W-League side.

Amongst other sponsors, Chevron Australia and Bankwest have jumped on board for the cause and will be branded on the WA kit and Football West would like to thank them for their support of the Flood Appeal.

Two local players from Carnarvon, Andrew Andreoli and Yarren Raven, will also get the chance to represent their State when they start on the bench for WA.

Dunn says his players will be looking to prove a point against Perth Glory.

"After watching most of the Bam Creative Night Series games, Andy Thorburn and I have put together quite a good outfit of lads," he said.

"There is a mix of youth experience and a bit of speed so hopefully the boys will give a good account of themselves.

"We only managed to squeeze in one session but the enthusiasm shown by the players to make themselves available at such short notice is fantastic.

"Everyone is really excited to be able to represent Football West and show the Carnarvon people that we have been thinking about them down here in Perth.

"The players just want to put on a good show and do their little bit to support them where they can."

The team will hold their only training session tonight at Tompkins Park, beginning at 6.30pm, before flying out to Carnarvon on Friday morning.

Kick off against Perth Glory will be at 6.00pm.
