GLORY'S FAMILY DAY TO ROAR INTO ACTION TOMORROW

Perth Glory is set to host reigning champions Brisbane Roar tomorrow in a vital clash at Inglewood's 6PR Stadium in Round 5 of the Westfield W-League.

Fresh from a week off, the Glory is injury-free and ready to go, with the pending international transfer clearance of Lisa-Marie Woods the only concern for Perth coach Jamie Harnwell.

Both Perth and Brisbane's last outings were 2-1 wins over Adelaide United, but Harnwell knows that tomorrow's match will be one of the season's toughest.

"It was great to get our first victory of the season on board against Adelaide but we aren't getting carried away yet," said Harnwell.

"The team knows they didn't play to their full potential last game and have been working hard during our bye week to get everything up to scratch.

"We are looking forward to a very tough game against the reigning champions - it is our home game though and we will be pushing for a win, though we will need to be at our best to achieve it.

"It has been great to have Lisa-Marie (Woods) join in the training sessions and it was easy to see straight away why she has represented her country.

"Her ability on the ball is second to none and it gives me some difficult decisions to make on the team line up which is what you want as a coach but I am confident whatever side I put out will be good enough to give us another home win."

Perth Glory midfielder Elisa D'Ovidio is also looking forward to the match and encourages all of the fans to come out to the team's annual Family Day.

"Brisbane is one of the top sides and we know it is going to be a very challenging game, but with a bye last week it has given us the chance to work on a few things and the girls are feeling very confident," said D'Ovidio.

"It's also our Family Day so bring down your friends and family members and enjoy the entertainment throughout the day.

"The players would also love to meet our supporters and fans so wait around after the game and we will be signing some posters and taking photos."

Healthway's brand new Smarter than Smoking inflatable goals will be on show tomorrow at Inglewood's 6PR Stadium before the match kicks off at 4pm.
