BREAST CANCER FUNDRAISER BACK AGAIN THIS WEEKEND

Perth Glory is ready for their first home game of the season this weekend at nib Stadium against Adelaide United in the annual National Breast Cancer Foundation (NBCF) fundraiser.

The Glory is coming off a 3-2 loss away to Canberra United and only arrived back in Perth early this morning after being caught up in the airline dramas.

Opponents Adelaide United is also coming off a loss, going down 3-0 to the new-look Newcastle Jets.

This Saturday's match will also be the fourth annual NBCF fundraiser after the team pledged its support behind the charity following the passing of midfielder Dani Calautti's mother in season one.

Breast cancer is the most commonly diagnosed cancer among women in Australia and one in nine women will develop breast cancer in their lifetime.

Team Pink Coordinator Ben Child is looking forward to yet another successful event this weekend.

"The National Breast Cancer Foundation has been proud to be associated with the Perth Glory W-League team for the past four years," said Child.

"The team has raised nearly $3,000 which goes towards vital breast cancer research.

"Team Pink is the NBCF sport and leisure fundraising program which promotes the relationship between exercise, health and breast cancer recovery and rehabilitation.

"It also looks to increase the level of awareness regarding breast cancer and breast cancer research and encourage fundraising activities amongst the sport and leisure community.

"So please show your support of the Perth Glory Women in this annual match and support NBCF and Team Pink to raise funds for breast cancer research."

Perth Glory A-League members will also have free general admission entry to all games this season, so the W-League side is looking forward to seeing more supporters getting down and showing their support.

NBCF merchandise will be able to be purchased at the match and the team will also be collecting donations.

Kickoff against Adelaide United is at 12pm on Saturday 5 November.
