Standing Committee Recommendation Women's NPL Night Series to implement the interchange rule instead of the substitution rule.
Decision	<input type="checkbox"/> Approved <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Rejected <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Noted
Football West Resolution As per the FIFA Laws of the Game, the substitution rule is required in an official competition organised under the auspices of FIFA, the confederations or the member associations. Football West will be maintaining the current position, as per competition rules, that the NPL Women's Night Series Competition will have the substitution rule in place. The NPL competition is the elite competition in Western Australia and represents the second tier of women's football in Australia and therefore the substitutional rule should apply. Player welfare and development is an important matter and whilst Football West recognises the views of those stakeholders consulted, it is considered that the concerns can be addressed through appropriate player management during the course of the Night Series Competition.
